Lahaska, PA—Two well-known Bucks County entities—Peddler's Village and Bucks County Center for the Performing Arts—have united to present Tony n' Tina's Wedding, an immersive comedy that has delighted audiences around the globe since its 1988 premiere in New York City. Evening performances as well as three matinees will run from August 21 through August 25 at the Cock 'n Bull at Peddler's Village. Tickets are available at PeddlersVillage.com or by calling 215-794-4051.

The leading force behind the shows will be Howard Perloff, founder and artistic director of Bucks County Center for the Performing Arts, who has launched dozens of highly successful Tony 'n Tina's Wedding productions throughout the U.S. The interactive comedy show is staged as an evening of nuptials for two Italian American families, inviting the audience to actively participate with real food, real dance, and real mingling with the cast of lovable characters.

"Tony n' Tina's Wedding is more than a show," said Perloff. "It's an unforgettable experience in which audience members become guests at the lively wedding of Tony Nunzio and Tina Vitale. I'm thrilled to bring it to this major destination in Bucks County."

"We are delighted to welcome Bucks County Center for the Performing Arts and this incredibly popular show to Peddler's Village," said Bob McGowan, chief executive officer of Peddler's Village.
